Questions for further research and discussion:

Family was very important to Andrew. Once you have looked carefully at the photos of Andrew and his family, read his letters written to his family during his time as a soldier in World War 1. Then return here to do the following two activities:

1. Select a section of one of his letters that you feel makes a connection to one of these images. Then, explain the connection between what Andrew has written and the image, either as a group discussion or in written form.
2. Pretend you are one of Andrew's relatives. Write a response to one of Andrew's letters. What would you tell, or ask, Andrew? Share the letter with your classmates and discuss similarities and differences between your letter to Andrew and your classmates' letters.
